Your brother is really good, Your Majesty!
So that...
T/N: Gege (哥哥), Chinese equivalent of Japanese "Nii-san" which lacks a proper English translation. Only Hong seems to use it that way in this comic.

It's been a long time, you two.
Huh?

The room is dark, but it's bad to light up at daytime.
Oh...
Wait a few years, when I become a police and get my housing, you can do your homework in a bright room!
You should be in high school by then.
So far away...
Oh------ There're already this many people
What are they looking at? This many people...
Don't ask, you'll know when you see it.

T/N "iron bowl" is a Chinese metaphor describing a secure job back then like civil servant or position in state owned enterprises

Brother...Why is mum crying?
Because our mum...
has no place to work.
Zhong, are you in?
What's the matter, mum?
Mum has something to talk to you.

You're in Year 12, tuitions are much higher than before.
Hua's in primary school now and the sponsor class cost a lot...
Mum only works part-time without guaranteed income... Dad's articles can't get accepted so no contribution fee...
Mum!
I'll go to the free combat class for the last time this afternoon, telling the coach I'm not going
.....
Sorry, son.
Mum, please don't...

So let's say goodbye here!
Wait a minute! No hurry.
Are you going to provincial capital for college two days after?
Really good to be admitted by a normal university. Have a romantic love there.
Stop joking!
I'm there for studying! Love affairs...I hate them most!
Well, Lanlan, see you in the winter holiday!
Bring us gifts!
OK! Goodbye!
It should be closer to cross the park.

Hey!
Boss!

There comes a pretty chick. She's so bold to cross our territory in the evening!

Really? What a gift from heaven!
Dawei..
